

Thursday, November 04, 2004 America Online: EricNumis

Subj: Re: Panic Scrip information
 Date: 11/04/2004 10:18:56 AM Central Standard Time
 From: EricNumis
 To: NelsShaf

Dear Neil:

Thank you for your follow up on your request. My problem as I told you is that my scrip is in loose leaf books by state and in the alphabetical order of the name of the issuer. If you could suggest to me what state to look at I will try. I just cannot go through my written inventory or collection because that would be reading thousands of entries or looking at thousands of items.

Please give me a suggestion.

Happy Thanksgiving in spite of Bush.

Eric

Hi Eric,
 Hope this finds you well. Just a question- have you been able to round up some information on notes you might have pertaining to the 1893, 1907 & 1914 scrip that we discussed some time ago? Reason I ask now is that the three of us working on this project just met last week in Calif. and we made some good progress there. Now we have to follow up on leads that may get us any scraps of data to add from any sources we can come up with, as any major collection we are aware of has been researched. I surely want to include anything you may have to enhance this work.
 All best,
 Neil

Subj: Panic Scrip information
 Date: 11/04/2004 9:20:27 AM Central Standard Time
 From: NelsShaf
 To: EricNumis

Thursday, November 04, 2004 America Online: EricNumis